Mayor Carver Wins Recall Election Tuesday By Four Votes

Observations...

By the Editor

A certain young lady, who was quite an interested spectator at the polls Tuesday Evening, must have had a terrible disappointment when the editor did not have the heart attack she had anticipated his having over the results. . . no, sister, election and politics have not been the cause of the ailment we are suffering from. . . we learned early in life to take it in stride. . . and too, we learned to control our temper when under pressure. . . something many folks can't do. . . Commander J. V. Bech of the United States Merchant Marine Cadet School at Henderson Point, may have sounded a note for some action by the people of the coast for the retention of the school. . . "President Truman, says the school must go," said Commander Bech. . . it was saved last year through the efforts of Bill Colmer and John Stennis. . . we on the coast, particularly Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian, who probably receive the most benefit from the school in a material way, should exert every effort to have the fight carried on to try and sustain the base in its present location. . . write or wire Bill Colmer and John Stennis, or whoever else, in congress you may know, or have influence with to lend us a helping hand. . . the March of Dimes Campaign for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has been continued for one week longer. . . the contributions have been slow coming in, according to Mrs. Theo Tudury, County Chairman. . . Won't you help in this cause if you have not as yet contributed. . . remember the greater portion of this money remains with the local chapter. . . it may help one near and dear to you. . . Don McCulloch, has been named Chairman of the American Red Cross Drive for Hancock County, with Bob Hamilton as chairman of publicity. . . the drive will open March 1st; the quota for Hancock County is $4,122.00. . . five weeks have passed and as yet the Mississippi Legislature seems to be fumbling about with nothing of importance having taken place. . . the Bay St. Louis bridge seems to have become the forgotten orphan child. . . we shudder to think what may happen on this dilapidated old structure some of these days. . . the tonnage of the vehicles and the great number of them making their way over this bridge each day is making it increasingly dangerous. . . the reports from the Sheriff's office on the number of poll taxes paid are indeed encouraging. . . Deputy Sheriff Sylvester Moran reports that at the present time it appears that there will be approximately 5000 receipts issued for the 1949 poll taxes. . . with the number of people over age for the payment of poll taxes and those under age we will have close to 6000 votes in Hancock County in the next County and State election. . . paying your poll tax and exercising your right to vote is a real display of good citizenship. . . and by the way have you checked to see if you have re-registered in this County. . . if you failed to re-register this year you will not be able to vote until four months following your registration.

Plan Masquerade Ball For March Of Dimes

A masquerade ball for the benefit of the March of Dimes campaign will be given at Hotel Reed, Wednesday, February 8, Mrs. Theo Tudury, county chairman, announced.

For reservations and further information contact Mrs. Dan M. Russell, Jr., Mr. Frank Cooper or Mr. Howard LeTissier.

The March of Dimes campaign has been extended another week. The drive, which was to end January 31, has been continued to enable everyone who has not contributed to this worthy cause to do so immediately. Mrs. Tudury said.

Epidemic aid funds of the National Foundation, the chairman said, were depleted by 1949's record high infantile paralysis epidemics in which more than 40,000 children and adults were stricken with the crippling disease. These funds were expended not only in caring for new cases, but in continuing treatment for thousands of patients stricken during the serious outbreaks of 1948. "We are faced with the certainty that about 17,000 victims of 1949 must be cared for during most of 1950, the greatest carry-over load in the 12-year history of the National Foundation," the March of Honor T. T. Robin . . .

The Sunday School of the Main Street Methodist Church Presented T. T. Robin a beautiful silver tray, in appreciation of his work as Superintendent of the Sunday School, for the past ten years, Sunday morning, January 29. The occasion was a complete surprise for Mr. Robin. Just before the general assembly retired to classes, Mrs. Robin was asked to conduct her husband to the front of the church where the presentation of the gift was made by Carl T. Smith, Sr. After a few remarks of appreciation by Mr. Smith, the gift was presented, opened and shown to members. On the tray are engraved the words "Presented to T. T. Robin by the Methodist Sunday School, Bay St. Louis, Miss., January 29, 1950, For loyal service as Superintendent." J. D. Vaughn succeeds Mr. Robin as superintendent.

H. K. Rouse Sr; 75, Dies At Poplarville

H. K. Rouse, Sr., 75, dean of Pearl River county political officials and advisor to the late Sen. Theo G. Bilbo, died at his home at 2:50 a. m., Tuesday, January 31.

Funeral services were conducted in the First Baptist church at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, February 1, with Dr. Judson Chastain, pastor officiating. He was assisted by Rev. R. L. Walton, pastor of the First Methodist church. Burial was in Poplarville cemetery.

Mr. Rouse, who served as county superintendent of education with his first term beginning January 1, 1896, was elected to his first term in office before he was twenty-one years old.

Mr. Rouse served in public office for twelve terms without suffering a single defeat. He served, after the term as superintendent of education, eight years as representative in the state Legislature, four years as sheriff, 28 years as chancery clerk and four years as state senator from the district composed of Pearl River, Hancock and Lamar counties.

Refusing to run for office in the last general election, the deceased served as deputy chancery clerk in the office of his son, Norman C. Rouse, current clerk of Pearl River county.

Mr. Rouse, born in Pearl River county, moved to Lamar county at an early age. When he was 17 he entered high school in Lumberton; after attending school for one session, he taught for a year near Lumberton. He returned to school for a year and then was employed to teach school in the Juniper Grove community.

Mr. Rouse is survived by his wife, Mrs. H. K. Rouse, Sr., of Poplarville, and three sons, Dr. H. K. Rouse, Gulfport; Dr. W. H. Rouse, Jackson; and Norman C. Rouse, Poplarville.

Dimes county director stated, "That alone calls for a record-breaking March of Dimes campaign, but, further, we must stand ready to help new victims of outbreaks we know will hit many areas next summer." Contributions are coming in, Mrs. Tudury said, but not as rapidly as they should. She appeals to all citizens of Hancock County to think that someone close in the family may be a victim of this crippling disease during the next epidemic, then give to help continue research and treatment that may help prevent polio or effect its cure.

Medals Ordered For Relay Races

Gold, silver and bronze medals for the runners in the relay race to be held February 22 have been ordered. First, second or third place winners in the high schools and elementary schools will be given the awards at the end of the races. Trophies for the schools have also been ordered and will be on hand for the presentation.

Each school throughout the county is training faithfully, Forster Commagere, director stated, and if confidence counts for anything, he added, records are apt to be broken. In 1948 Dedaux won in the high school division with a timing of a little better than 60 minutes, Mr. Commagere continued. Waveland won the two and a half mile race in a little better than 14 minutes.

A meeting of the officials of the races will be held next week to complete final arrangements. There will hardly be a change in the starting hour, 2:30 p. m., the director said.

Com. J. V. Bech Speaks At Rotary Meeting Feb. 1

The Merchant Marine School is an advantage to Bay St. Louis, Commander J. V. Bech, guest speaker said at the Rotary meeting Wednesday. Commander Bech pointed out some of the instances when the cadets from the school have saved the lives of children; have given employment to people from Bay St. Louis; and that all of the money spent for school stores, building materials and other necessities is spent between New Orleans and Gulfport.

LEAVE MONEY
Housing, food, clothing, cars and other needs have left money here and elsewhere along the coast.

What the school offers to boys in the line of education is equal to a freshman year in any large university, the speaker continued. "Four years of discipline makes a man of a boy."

TRAINING
Boys from the ages of 13 to 23, are eligible to enter the cadet school for a year of training; they then have one year at sea and after that go to Kings Point, New York for further training.

At the present time, the Commander continued, the school needs the backing of all our representatives in Congress as its future depends on Congress reaction to it. "President Truman said the school must go."

Writing Chain Letters Is A Violation Of The Law

Chain letters are again being mailed in town. This is a violation of the Postal Laws, and the guilty parties who mail these CHAIN LETTERS AND CARDS, are subject to prosecution; this applies to chains that send gifts, prayers or anything else, Leo G. Ford, postmaster, said. If one of these CHAIN LETTERS or CARDS is received do not follow it and do not mail any out for if you do you are subject to prosecution, the postmaster added.

Holly Bluff - On - The - Jordan Has Many Scenic Flower Gardens

In Southland Sketches, a type of believe-it-or-not, which is printed in The Mobile Register, appears the following article: "The largest holly trees in the South are growing on the Mississippi coast at Holly Bluff-on-the-Jordan."

GARDENS
Holly trees are not the only things growing at this lovely country home. Mr. and Mrs. Crump have one of the loveliest gardens in this section; their camellias are known throughout this area.

Veiled by Spanish moss are giant live oaks, cypress, maple and gum; towering pines hover over dogwood and other trees on the grounds. Along shaded paths are countless varieties of camellias, innumerable rare species of azaleas, ardisia, mountain laurel, spiraea, gardenia, iris and fern.

PINE CARPETS
Walking along the river bank and through the woods where cherokee roses, wisteria and bright berries lend color, one treads on carpets of pine needles.

Split rail fences of cypress and smaller log cabins add a rustic note to the thirty-six hundred acres.

Mr. and Mrs. Crump began with seventeen acres and in 1922 they built their present home, a log cabin, constructed entirely by native labor of 48 foot long cypress beams, a roof of hand-hewn cypress shingles, hand-forged ironwork and time-mellowed bricks.

STARTED IN 1935
Gardens at Holly Bluff were started in 1935, and today they have one of the show spots along the coast.

Originally known as the Williams place, Holly Bluff, was an old hide-out for liquor gangs during prohibition time. Today, holes can still be found where the gang leaders and

Hal Porter Bound To Grand Jury On An Alleged Fraud

Being able to remember faces, proved quite an asset to Constable Gerald Price last Monday. He went into the postoffice and noticed a bulletin on the board, asking for the apprehension of a man wanted on a mail fraud charge. He spoke to Postmaster Leo G. Ford, about the matter, and told him that he was certain he knew the man and his whereabouts.

CONTACT INSPECTOR
Postoffice Inspector Hargrove was contacted and he came to Bay St. Louis. He and Mr. Price, went to the Weighside Inn, on Highway 90 at Waveland avenue, and there they arrested Hal W. Porter, who operated the place, on the mail fraud charge, involving the manufacture and distribution of a worthless solution purporting to lengthen the life of Nylon hosiery.

OPERATES OUT OF CHICAGO
Porter, who is 39 years old, operated out of Chicago, and it is reported that he was last seen in that city, September-1949. He was arrested on a complaint and warrant which came from Rochester, N. Y., where he allegedly sold a quantity of his solution called "Hose Dip." He is reported to have received several thousand dollars from the sale of this product.

HELD IN DEFAULT
Porter was held in default of a bond in the sum of $1500.00 and was bound over to the action of the Federal Grand Jury by Miss Irene Herbert, U. S. Commissioner at Biloxi. He was taken to the Hines County jail by Deputy Marshal A. A. Knight.

Coburn Bennett Is Struck By The "Humming Bird"

Coburn Bennett was struck by the Louisville and Nashville train number 6, known as the "Humming Bird," at 12:15 Saturday, January 28.

Mr. Bennett was crossing the L. and N. tracks at Touline street, walking north, when the accident occurred. He was thrown about fifteen feet, according to those who saw the accident.

Bennett was taken by ambulance to the Kings Daughters and Sons hospital; he was later removed to the Foundation hospital, New Orleans, where his condition was reported to be critical.

Mr. Bennett is the son of Mrs. Annie Bennett of this city; a brother of Mrs. Charles Ladner and Mrs. Leta Little of this city; and an uncle of Mrs. Wilmer Thibaux.

Final Tally Records 489 Against, 485 For 1950 Red Cross Drive Commences March 1st.

"Here we are again, almost at the beginning of our annual Red Cross drive," Don McCulloch, chairman of the American Red Cross 1950 campaign fund drive, stated. "Our (and that includes you) drive begins March 1, 1950 and to quote the words of President Truman 'Many times a year the American people turn to the Red Cross. Once a year the Red Cross turns to the people.'"

The quota set for Hancock County for 1950 is $4,122.

MR. McCULLOCH

Mr. McCulloch, a veteran of World War II, volunteered the day after Pearl Harbor and remained in service for five years. He served two years in the Pacific theater of war with engineer intelligence. He had the rank of captain. He was present at the Philippine liberation.

Mr. McCulloch, originally from Missoula, Montana, is a graduate of the University of Montana. He now resides in Cedar Lane with his wife, the former Effie Graham Power, and their two children, and is employed by the Mississippi Power Company in Gulfport.

PUBLICITY CHAIRMAN

Robert L. Hamilton, a major in the U. S. Army, was appointed publicity chairman for the drive. Mr. Hamilton served two and a half years overseas with Public Relations in the European theatre. For six months he was public relations official for the famous Nuremberg trials which ended late in 1946.

The publicity chairman, whose home town was Port Gibson, Miss., is employed by the Hancock Bank. He is married to the former Mildred Roy Cagle.

Committees will be appointed to work the different sections of the county for contributions; so start saving now and give your donation with pride to your Red Cross committee when they call.

"No other organization is so well equipped, so well trained, so completely dedicated to the relief of human suffering."

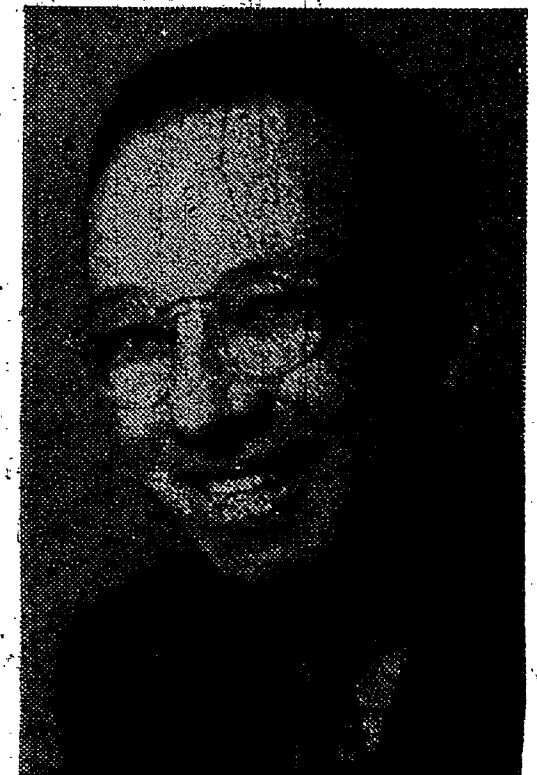

—Mrs. Luke S. Elliott and son, Chipper, are spending this week with Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Elliott. Mrs. Elliott plans to join her husband in New York at a later date.

A total of 974 voters made their way to the polls on Tuesday, January 31st, 1950, with very little fanfare, and cast their ballots in the recall election of Mayor Warren J. Carver.

Mayor Carver's recall failed by four votes, the final vote being 489 against the recall and 485 for. The vote by precincts were as follows: South Bay St. Louis, For 174, against 272; North Bay St. Louis For 311, against 217.

ENDS CONTROVERSY

The election brought to a conclusion the controversy that has been the center of interest in the city for the past 9 days, starting with a petition circulated by Mayor Carver and his followers to recall Commissioners Ladner and Glover. Immediately following the publishing and circulation of this petition, a counter petition was published and circulated against the Mayor and this petition was filed with the commission council on December 30th, 1949, and an election was ordered. The petitions against the Commissioners were not filed.

FORM MOTORCADE

Following the close of the polls Tuesday Evening, friends of Mayor Carver, formed a motorcade and paraded throughout the City.

When asked for a statement, Mayor Carver said: "I am very happy of course, over the outcome of the election. I am thankful to those who voted for me and to those who worked so unselfishly in my behalf. My hope is that the ultimate results, will be a period of friendly cooperation among all, for the betterment of the entire community."

glassware, old laces, carved ivories, tapestries, Sicilian pottery, ceramics and silver.

"To lovers of natural beauty and the peace of a woodland, Holly Bluff, offers a unique charm in its unspoiled setting of semi-tropical flora."

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Crump built their home, pictured above out of 48 foot long cypress beams.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

Select Trees For Market Carefully

By Howard F. Simmons

MANAGE THE FARM WOODLOT

Farm woodlots can help buy seed and fertilizer this spring and still be a reserve bank account of wood products if proper care is used in selecting and removing trees to be marketed.

There is still time before spring plowing to use farm labor in the timber harvesting operation, which increases still more the income from the farm woodlot.

But do not take a chance on making your farm woodlot a liability for several years by improper cutting. Sound advice on timber management is available through the county agent's office.

Your county agent can assist you in woodlot management, or may put you in contact with a local forester. The forester's special training and experience enables him to determine what products should be made from each tree to realize the most income.

Farm woodlots can be made to produce many more dollars by harvesting properly and marketing the mature trees and the trees which should be removed to improve the growing condition of the stand.

In many cases, the county agent and local forester can find a market for products usually through waste material.

Cull trees, and tops of merchantable trees can be worked into pulpwood and fuelwood. Small trees from stands needing thinning can be harvested as fence posts and, if properly treated with a good preservative, marketed at a profit or used by the farmer.

BROODER HOUSES

With the brooding season for replacement poultry stock coming up, it is necessary to give attention now to your brooder house.

Poultrymen once thought that brooding could not be done in large brooder houses. But it has been found that larger brooder houses are actually more satisfactory than smaller ones, and the present trend seems toward the larger houses.

For as many as 1,000 chicks, a 30 by 30 foot brooder house works well. Three or four small colony brooders would be required for this same number of chicks.

An extension plan for the 30 by 30 foot house can be had through the county agent.

A larger unit saves much labor in caring for the birds. The larger brooder house fits better into the larger replacement flock.

Incidentally, flock owners who have increased the size of their laying flock to 300 hens or more are finding it more profitable.

GARDEN TASKS

Fertilize and mulch strawberries this month.

An application of fertilizer such as 6-8-4 should be made before the plants are mulched. Apply at the rate of 4 to 6 pounds to the 100 feet of row, and when plants are dry to prevent burning the leaves.

To mulch, place pine straw, oat straw or other mulching material around the plants and completely covering the ground. This protects the fruit from dirt and also prevents growth of grass and weeds which would take moisture and plant food from the berry plants.

Roses can be successfully transplanted now. Delay pruning bush roses until late February. Do not prune climbing roses until after flowering.

This is also a good time to transplant all shrubs. Use more broad-leaf evergreens in plantings, such as Chinese holly, abelia, camellia, azalea, firethorn, and nandina.

HOME AGENT NOTES

Make Use Of Gardening Weather

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

How is your garden growing?

You've been taking advantage of the recent "spring-like" days to clean-up fertilizer plow-up, haven't you? And to get seed for plants like lettuce, radishes, onions, English peas, carrots, Irish potatoes and turnips and tendergreens into the ground.

"DID YOU KNOW?" ANSWERS
As you plan and plant here are the answers to some "did you know" questions that will help you grow your 1950 year-round garden. For example, did you know, a quart of onion sets contains 125 to 150 average size sets. Or, did you know a package of bought beet seed will plant 30 to 35 feet or row, carrots 30 feet, collards, 20 to 25 feet, lettuce 25 feet, okra 25 feet, radish 30 to 35 feet, spinach 25 feet, mustard 25 to 25 feet and turnips 30 feet.

A gallon of Irish potatoes will weight about 5 to 6 pounds and will plant 20 to 25 feet of row (3 gallon buckets equal about 1 peck).

FEBRUARY GARDEN JOBS

include:

1. Build and plant hotbed for April plants.
2. Buy seed needed for March and April plantings.
3. Secure a good dust gun or sprayer and adequate insecticides.
4. Side-dress January planted crops.
5. Test home-saved seed before planting, over 1 year old.
6. Set asparagus crowns, if you have not already.
7. Thin January planted vegetables—give 'em room.
8. Turn compost pile.
9. Scatter ashes saved from hardwood over garden. Ashes contain some lime and a little potash.
10. Begin to clean out and prepare coldframe for plants to be transplanted in late February or early March.

do you think were installed in Mississippi in 1949?

The year 1949 was such a big year in the growth of telephone facilities and service, we thought you would like to know some of the facts and figures. Here's the story of the year in brief:

New Telephones

More than 46,000 new telephones were installed in Mississippi last year! That's a lot of telephones, requiring the addition of huge quantities of wire, cable, poles, central office equipment and new buildings or building additions.

Rural Telephones

Many construction crews were busy stringing lines in rural areas throughout the state last year. During the year more than 13,300 new rural telephones were installed.

Money Spent

This vast expansion and improvement of telephone service in Mississippi in 1949 cost more than $11,330,000. This was over and above other millions of dollars paid out in Mississippi for operating expenses.

New Buildings

Six new buildings or building additions were completed in the state last year and work is under way on other new building projects for 1950.

People at Work

At the close of 1949 there were more than 4,000 people employed by Southern Bell in Mississippi. Wages for these men and women amounted to millions of dollars—a substantial contribution to trade and prosperity throughout the state.

Mississippi and the South are growing as never before and we are continuing our all-out effort to make telephone service constantly more valuable and available to more and more people.

Sam Whitfield, Pulpwood Shipper Employs Conservation Forester

Robert Jones, forester, Bay-St. Louis, seen examining tree age and growth rate in one of Hancock County's dense stands of pine. Jones promotes better forestry among private landowners and better cutting by pulpwood crews. He is employed by Sam Whitfield, pulpwood shipper to International Paper Company's Moss Point mill.

A forward step in the conservation of Mississippi's timber resources by private industry was made recently when Bob Jones was employed by Sam Whitfield, pulpwood center of Bay-St. Louis, as a forester in Hancock County.

Jones' duties include work both on land owned by Whitfield and on timber owned by individual farmers. He estimates and marks timber and otherwise helps landowners with their management and marketing problems. He consults with pulpwood producers for Whitfield at Bay-St. Louis, Lakeshore, Logtown and Kiln, and follows their pulpwood operations to check on their leaving seed trees and thinning on selective cutting jobs.

Whitfield and Jones are now actively engaged in reforesting land owned by Whitfield, and the protecting seedlings after they are planted. They have recently brought a tractor, tree-planter and fire-lane plow. They are planning to plant 125,000 seedlings this year.

Gulf Coast 4-H Camp Locates At Gulfport

State College, Miss.—A section of the Naval Training Center at Gulfport was granted Mississippi State College Agricultural Extension Service for use as a 4-H Club camp, it was announced today by President Fred T. Mitchell, and L. I. Jones, director of Extension Service.

With this announcement, H. S. Johnson, administrative assistant, said that "we feel this is the spark we need to complete the drive for funds to construct three permanent 4-H camps in the state."

OTHER CAMPS

In addition to the newly acquired camp on the Gulf Coast, camps are planned on Sardis Lake in Panola County, and one for negroes in Madison County.

The camps will be organized, directed and maintained by the Agricultural Extension Service of Mississippi State College. Although dedicated primarily to the more than 106,000 4-H Club members of the state, camp facilities will be available to other rural groups and educational agencies working with rural people.

The approval by the Navy for use of part of the expensive Gulfport center was "for educational and recreational purposes by the Mississippi 4-H Clubs and other organized groups participating in programs directed by the Agricultural Extension Service of Mississippi State College."

THOSE WHO HELPED

Mr. Johnson stated that this fine deal was made possible by State 4-H Advisory Council, including Lonnie Sweett, Gulfport; Jim Leavelle, Ocean Springs; W. E. Fulton, Laurel; Lee M. Taylor, Jackson; Congressman Bill Colmer and Senators Eastland and Stennis.

The property and equipment made available to the Agricultural Extension Service of State College includes barracks to accommodate 500, equipped mess hall and kitchen, auditorium, recreational hall, buildings for group work such as craft, leadership, training and special subject matter groups.

PLAYGROUND AREAS

A sufficient playground area is likewise available as also is a wooded area for forestry demonstrations, training for wildlife, and nature study work to be conducted.

The recreational area includes paved tennis courts and volleyball courts and a baseball field.

Mr. Johnson and Dan Howell, assistant Extension agricultural engineer, expect to make a detail survey of the newly acquired site within the next week to determine the needs for repairs.

EXPAND CAMPING PROGRAM

When the three permanent 4-H Club camps are in operation, it will enable the Extension Service to expand the camping program already being carried out at a number of State camp sites, according to R. O. Monosmith, state 4-H Club leader.

Instead of a three-day camping period, a week's program may be planned, with members receiving training in conservation of natural resources, soil, timber, wildlife, water, health, safety, crafts and all forms of wholesome recreation. Emphasis will be given to development of character, leadership, relationships and training for citizenship.

City and rural schools are participating, and they will carry out the theme. Other than the schools, all other float entries, in order to participate in the Business, Organization, Clubs, etc. classification for Cash Awards, must have made an entry fee of $5.00. Mrs. Horton stated.

Other classifications of Horsemen, Bicyclists and general Markers will be judged for Cash Awards.

A "Block-Dance" is also planned for that day, exact time and place will be made known later.

COTTON

The House is presently considering a resolution, sponsored by Chairman Cooley of the House Agriculture Committee and backed almost unanimously by Members from the Cotton Belt, which would correct the inequities growing out of the cotton allotment bill, which passed the Congress late last Fall.

While the resolution is not regarded as a complete answer to the problem, it is felt that it will go a long way toward correcting the inequities and inequalities of the allocation made by the Department under the previous bill.

FEPC

The resolution was unanimously reported out of the House Agriculture Committee, but not without this it was subjected to filibuster tactics in its consideration both by the FEPC advocates in the Rules Committee and on the floor of the House. This, of course, is a vindictive attempt on the part of the more radical FEPC advocates to retaliate against the South because of the opposition of the Southern Members of the FEPC.

However, since an effective filibuster is impossible under the rules of the House this attempt will not be successful.

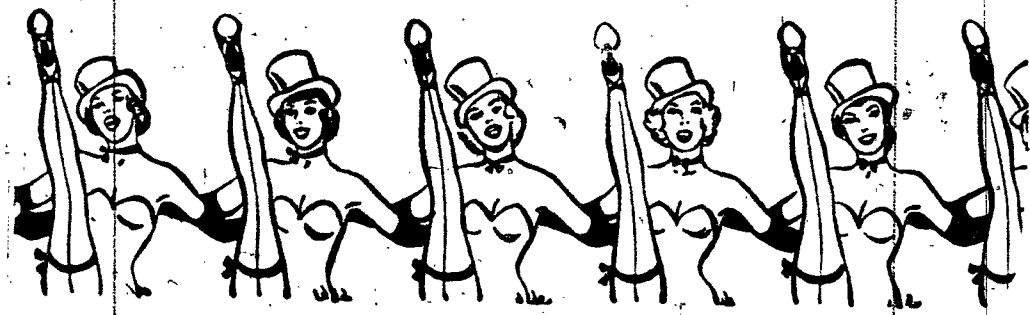

The FEPC legislation itself is still stymied in the House. But, for the same reasons that the cotton bill can not be filibustered to death, the FEPC will, within the next 30 days, reach the floor for a vote. This notwithstanding the fact that those of us who oppose this worst form of regimentation of our people by a powerful Federal Government are exercising every parliamentary procedure available. The story, of course, would have been different had the movement to repeal the so-called 21 days prevailed. For it was generally admitted in the debate on the floor in the cloak room that the FEPC was the issue. Incidentally, there have been three votes in the Rules Committee on reporting this bill out within past two weeks, and all have failed. But it is generally conceded that when it reaches the floor, either under the 21-day rule or the Calendar Wednesday provision, it will pass because of the minority group pressure.

Winning Letter

Last week we were unable to quote the prize winning letter written by Mr. E. J. Gex, Jr., because of a shortage of space.

We quote in full the letter with which Mr. Gex won a $100 war bond. "Mr. John Q. Public, Mississippi Theatres Association, Yourtown, Mississippi.

"Dear Mr. Public:

"Did you know that YOU, as a Mississippian, pay 15 times more sales tax on your movie ticket than you pay on most other purchases made in this state? Furthermore,

"YOU, not the movie industry bear tax in the nation. This situation is obviously unfair and unsound, and should be remedied.

"YOU, not the movie industry, bear this unjust burden. The movie theatre is the average man's main source of recreation. YOU and your family are the chief participants, YOU carry the brunt of the burden. Similar institutions in our state provide this same type service, but their customers are taxed little or not at all. Other states have 2%, or less, tax. Why then, in all sense of justice, should the Mississippi movie patrons be discriminately taxed just because their recreational preference is the movie?

"The tax that you now pay was originally designed for "temporary emergencies only." Nearly twenty years ago Mississippi imposed the 10% Patron Tax for "only a short time." Again, during the recent war, our federal government added the 20% Patron Tax in order that it might quickly raise money badly needed. Your neighborhood theatre patriotically cooperated in both instances, but "a long time" has passed and any national emergency has ended, whereas, promises have not been kept nor has relief been forthcoming.

"Theatres today are vital educationally, and it is an unsound principle which discourages their attendance. The average Mississippian attending a movie theatre would have little opportunity of furthering his education if it were not for motion pictures. It is the theatre which conscientiously introduces him to good music, intelligent drama, and fine artists. Through the medium of visual aid he becomes familiar with the most important people of his age and is an eye-witness to the actual happenings of news events throughout the world within hours after their occurrence.

"Finally, neither as a health-aid can the importance of the theatre be overlooked. Our average citizen and his family have made the movie theatre their local recreation center, where they receive vital relaxation and harmless entertainment. It is as much a part of our daily life as is the church, the school, and the corner grocery.

"In conclusion, the movie theatre has proved its importance to both our state and to its people. It has always offered its full cooperation for any 'charity drive' or other national or local need. Because of the importance and high type of service rendered by the motion picture theatre today, there should be no admission tax whatsoever. Certainly then, if there is to be a tax it should be fair and in proportion to that levied against other institutions of this type and service. Let us stop treating this necessary part of our everyday lives as a nonessential luxury. Beware we do not kill this celluloid goose who lays the golden egg—nor bite unduly the fond patron's hand who feeds her."

Preserve Carnival Ball Pictures In Album For Sisters Of S. J. A.

Many years ago when the St. Joseph Academy Mother's club was in its infancy, the school had a staggering debt from the new building that had just been completed. Today, the debt on the gymnasium is gradually dwindling thanks to the entertainments that were given to help defray expenses.

In 1934 Mrs. William Staehle, then president of the club, suggested that a Carnival Ball be given. The late Charles G. Moreau, owner and editor of the Sea Coast Echo at that time, was prevailed upon to be the first king. He accepted, and chose Miss Marie Bertrand as his queen.

Mr. Moreau, who was active in a number of New Orleans Carnival organizations, brought regal splendor to this first ball to be held in Bay St. Louis. He wore a regal costume with a crown and scepter. Later, however, the kings discarded the costume for the formal dress. With this they wore a large royal medalion and ribbon across the shirt front.

Through the loyalty of many friends, the affair has become one of the most outstanding social events of the year. Months before the date of the ball arrives, citizens of Bay St. Louis start guessing who the king and queen could be; but as usual, this is known to only those who are on the committee for selecting the rulers, and of course their majesties themselves.

Each year the ball of that time seems to surpass the one then one before in beauty; but when one looks back through pictures of the courts of years ago, it is difficult to make a definite statement.

The auditorium is turned into a veritable fairyland, and the stage becomes a tableau of beauty every year.

In order to preserve the memories of these annual Carnival Balls, an album with the pictures of the kings and queens who have reigned over the court for the last sixteen years is to be given to the Sisters of St. Joseph Academy. Through the efforts of Mrs. L. S. Elliott, chairman of the Album Fund, and the cooperation of the past rulers, an album will be presented to Mother Blanche, for the Academy, at the last Carnival club meeting before the 1950 ball.

The pictures, from which the negatives and prints were made, were loaned by the owners, and a sum, sufficient to cover the cost of making such a record book, was realized through the generosity of the kings and queens. The album is to be kept at the convent, as will all of the negatives.

The album will be on display, the evening it is presented, Mother Marie Blanche, superior, announced, and anyone wishing to see it after that may phone the convent and make an appointment.

Soil Conservation

By: J. L. BISHOP
Soil Conservation Service

Dear Editor:

Today, I received a summary of a report on Soil Conservation District Program which was submitted by Dr. H. H. Bennett, Chief, Soil Conservation Service, to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Farmers and landowners of Hancock County who are participating in the Soil Conservation District Program would like to know what the farmers of the nation are doing to conserve the Soil. Therefore, I am sending a copy of Dr. Bennett's report to you for publication in your paper.

Yours truly,

J. L. Bishop

Soil Conservation Service Report
Urges Completion of Land Capability Inventory

Completion of detailed surveys to determine the capability and conservation needs of the nation's farms at the earliest possible date was urged today by Chief H. H. Bennett in the 1949 fiscal-year report of the Soil Conservation Service.

His report to Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan pointed out that this information must be provided before an adequate conservation farming program can be planned or executed for any farm. Moreover, it is desirable for planning and carrying out other agricultural programs. Dr. Bennett mentioned, for example, that evaluation of lands for taxation or loans would be sounder and more equitable if made on the basis of their capability for production; that land capability could be used as the basis for sound procedure and beneficial adjustments in all types of agricultural credit or land tenure; and that it might well be used as a guide for the wise expansion of rural road building, rural electrification, and the orderly development of other community enterprises, especially those planned for permanency.

Although nearly 300,000,000 acres already have been surveyed, the conservation head reported, requests from farmers' soil conservation districts for farm planning assistance has so taxed the Service that the soil conservation inventory work recently has not been able to move ahead as rapidly as it should. He noted that the country may not need as large production of certain crops for several years as the unprecedented production it had to have during World War II and immediate post-war years, and suggested: "hence we could have a breathing spell during which we could very well complete our soil Conservation survey for the proper guidance of needed adjustments in justness and use of the land."

"Our soil conservation surveys have shown," the report explained, "that we are now cultivating many millions of acres that should go out of cultivation into permanent pasture or into quick-growing trees. This is important to the individual farmer, because it means efficiency in production and, in the long run, will mean a more stable income. And certainly it is of the utmost importance to the nation as a whole. Even though our land is now capable of production more than is in demand, this will not always be true if we continue to deplete our land resources while the demand for food and other agricultural products grows."

Chief Bennett also pointed to other means for speeding the soil and water conservation program, such as further development of conservation credit facilities.

"The solid results obtained from investments in conservation farming, in terms of increased income, prove that such investments usually pay for themselves and thus provide a basis for a sound extension of credit to finance them," his report said. "It seems desirable that appropriate steps be taken to broaden the credit structure to permit a more liberal use of credit for sound conservation operations and investments. Privately owned banking and credit institutions, as well as Government, should be encouraged to broaden their credit operations in this field. Some banks are doing this now and the tendency is increasing."

Other needs mentioned included more scientific research on some special conservation problems, intensifying conservation education through all available agencies and institutions, and encouraging and strengthening soil conservation districts, which already include more than three-fourths of the county's farms. As of June 30, 2,164 conservation districts were being assisted by the Service in the 48 states; Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Hawaii, and Alaska. Altogether, the conservation districts include about 1,179,000,000 acres, with additional districts being organized by farmers, each month.

GIVE WEINER ROAST

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Romanoff entertained a small group of friends at their home Saturday evening at a weiner roast. The table was laid in the yard, and the entertainment program consisted of doing as you please.

The services assisted 154 more districts in 1948-49 than it did during the preceding year, but Dr. Bennett said it was not able to give the districts all the technical aid they requested, because of limited personnel. But he again reported more permanent soil conservation applied to the land during the year than during any previous year. That included conservation farm planning of about 115,000 farms or more than 32,000,000 acres, complete treatment on more than 22,000,000 acres during the year, and detailed conservation surveys for about 26,000,000 acres.

The year's accomplishments brought to approximately 700,000 the farms in districts on which such plans are being followed, comprising around 185,000,000 acres, and to more than 101,000,000 acres the conservation-treated lands in districts.

One of the most important factors Dr. Bennett emphasized as aiding in speeding soil conservation work during the year was the more extensive use of neighbor groups in planning and applying conservation.

"These groups are generally ideal for planning and carrying out soil conservation work," he said. "They have demonstrated innumerable times that they work together effectively and take joint action in the furtherance of soil and water conservation. At this time, the Soil Conservation Service is cooperating with thousands of those neighbor groups and we are finding that they help speed up the conservation program."

Dr. Bennett reported "a considerable spread of practices" to adjoining farms, not included in the report's figures.

Invitational Tournament Starts At Bay Hi Feb. 1

The Bay High invitational basketball tournament started Wednesday night of this week. In the opening game, the Pass Christian girls easily defeated Sellers girls 47-27.

Joan Torzetti of Pass Christian was high scorer for the game with 19 points. The Sellers boys avenged the defeat of their girls when they stonewalled the Pass boys, after a fast and close game, with a 44-37 score. Billy Shaw, of Sellers, and Jerry Hayden of Pass tied for high point honors with 13 points each.

In the third game of the evening the Kiln girls outlasted a scrappy St. Martin team, 64-44. The St. Martin lassies displayed a fine working sextet, and probably had the outstanding player in the tournament in Mary Morris. The deciding factor of the game was the extra height of the Kiln girls.

The Kiln boys followed the foot steps of their girls' team by easily defeating St. Martin boys 52-32. Little Joe Thrash, scrappy Kiln forward, led the scoring parade with 22 points.

The tournament will continue through this weekend with four games played Thursday night, four tonight and two Saturday afternoon. The finals will be held Saturday night starting at 8:00 p. m.

Thursday night games were Kiln vs. Dedeaux girls; Kiln vs. Dedeaux boys; Bay High vs. Industrial girls; and Bay High vs. Industrial boys.

Tonight S. J. A. will play Picayune at 6:00 p. m.; S. S. C. vs. Picayune at 7:00 p. m.; Kiln-Dedeaux winner vs. Pass Christian, at 8:00 p. m. girls; Kiln-Dedeaux winner vs. Sellers, boys at 9:00 p. m.

There will be two semi-final games Saturday starting at 2:00 p. m.

Teen-Age Club News

By Joanne Bontemps

There will be no dance at the Teen-age center Saturday, February 4, because of the basketball tournaments at Bay High over the week end.

Mrs. Bennie Nobles, directress reports that there will be lots of fun in store for everybody next Saturday, February 11, at the Backward Dance. Remember teen-agers get ready to "turn about" and change your costume, for one evening. In order to make the party a howling success girls, come dressed as boys, and boys, don girlish finery; the girls will ask the boys to dance, and the girls will cut in if they wish.

These planned Saturday night parties promise to be fine entertainment and there is much to look forward to under the direction of Mrs. Nobles who has had experience with young people's groups before coming to Bay St. Louis.

Again you are reminded to bring your membership card to avoid having to pay the 25c entrance fee or being turned away. This is a rule that must be observed.

Come over and stay a while and see how much fun the young people have and what a wonderful place the center is for them. Come over and meet the people who work and help to make it a success.
